India because exports have an important role to play in the country's growth. Similarly, imports could affect inflation, he added.

The governor said that on the domestic front, the agriculture sector is doing well, and monsoon rainfall is now in excess. The shortfall in the net sowing area has also been closed to some extent and now stands around 1-1.5%. Other sectors like industry and services have also been performing well and credit growth is strong. High-frequency indicators suggest that economic activity in India is resilient, Das said.

However, he acknowledged that the 13.5% gross domestic product (GDP) growth for Q1FY23 was lower than the central bank's estimate of 16.2%.

Das said the RBI is studying the reasons for the deviation from the forecast and has identified a few areas, but declined to share further details. "Once we have made a detailed investigation of the reasons, we can discuss them in the next monetary policy," he said.

India's strong forex reserves are a solid backbone for the domestic economy, Das said, adding that the reserves provide comfort to markets as well as foreign investors. ## SoftBank's Vision Fund plans at least 20% staff cut

MIN JEONG LEE, PETER ELSTROM & ANTO ANTONY September 2

SOFTBANK GROUP IS planning to cut at least 20% of staff at its losschurning Vision Fund operation, following public pledges from Masayoshi Son to reduce headcount at the world's biggest tech investor, according to people familiar with the matter.

The Tokyo-based company will slash a minimum of 100 positions and may announce the job cuts as early as this month, said the people, asking not to be named as the information is not public. The cuts will mostly be in the UK, US and China operations, which have the most headcount, said the people. The Vision Fund unit had about 500 employees including Latin America funds staff.

Son, the self-made billionaire founder of the group, had said in August he plans widespread costcutting at his conglomerate and the Vision Fund investment arm after a record $23 billion loss. Most of the losses came from a plunge in the valuations of portfolio companies, including South Korea Coupang and DoorDash. SoftBank also reported a $6 billion foreign exchange loss because of the weaker yen.

Executives are still debating how extensive the cuts should be, with some calling for cuts as high as 50%, according to one person. "As Masa said at our most recent earnings, we are reviewing the organisation size and structure. However, nothing has been decided yet," a company representative said in an email.

Adhere to digital loan norms by Nov 30: RBI

FE BUREAU Mumbai, September 2

REGULATED ENTITIES (REs), including banks and other lenders, will have time till November 30 to transition existing customer accounts to the new digital lending guidelines, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) said on Friday.

The central bank clarified through a notification that the new norms, released through a circular dated August 10, will be applicable to existing customers availing fresh loans and to new customers getting on-boarded from the date of the circular.

"However, in order to ensure a smooth transition, REs shall be given time till November 30, 2022, to put in place adequate systems and processes to ensure that 'existing digital loans' (sanctioned as on the date of the circular) are also in compliance with these guidelines in both letter and spirit," the RBI said.

The regulator reiterated that outsourcing arrangements entered into by REs with a lending service provider(LSP) or digital lending app (DLA) does not diminish the REs obligations and they shall continue to conform to existing guidelines on outsourcing. It directed REs to ensure that the LSPs engaged by them and the DLAs comply with the guidelines.

Action to be taken on evidence of tax evasion above ₹5 crore

FE BUREAU New Delhi, September 2

AVAILABILITY OF ADEQUATE evidence of tax evasion of over ₹5 crore will trigger criminal prosecution against offenders, the goods and services tax (GST) investigation wing of the Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs (CBIC) said in guidelines issued on Friday.

The guidelines, which seek to put in adequate safeguards before the launch of prosecution, could give relief to the industry and businesses.

"Prosecution should normally be launched where the amount of tax evasion, or misuse of ITC (input tax credit), or fraudulently obtained refund concerning offences specified under sub-section (1) of section 132 of the CGST Act, 2017 is more than (₹5 crore),"it said in a circular.

However, this monetary threshold will not be applicable in the case of habitual evaders or in cases where  $arrests\,have\,been\,made\,at\,the\,time\,of$ the investigation. "A company/taxpayer would be treated as a habitual evader if it has been involved in two or more cases of confirmed demand (at the first adjudication level or above) of tax evasion/fraudulent refund or misuse of ITC involving fraud, suppression of facts, etc, in the past two years such that the total tax evaded and/or total ITC misused and/or fraudulently obtained refund exceeds ₹5 crore. #### SC gives finmin 30 more days to open GST common portal

THE SUPREME COURT on Friday gave the finance ministry further extension of 30 days for opening of the GST common portal. It also directed the GSTN to open the portal for 60 days from October 1 till December 31 so as to "give full effect" to its July 22 order that had allowed taxpayers to claim accumulated ITC accrued in the pre-GST indirect tax regime in 60 days ending October 31.

A Bench led by Justice SA Nazeer accepted the finance ministry plea that sought extension of time. "In view of criticality of revenue collection for the government... only emergency changes in the IT system are carried out and in general deploying new functionality such as TRAN-1 is avoided (period of 7th to 24th every month IT changes are avoided). This leaves GSTN with deployment window from 25th of a month to 6th of every month in every cycle," the ministry stated.

According to the government, pursuant to the SC order, the sequence of events had changed in TRAN 1 and TRAN 2 filings and this now involves a different business process in certain aspects and the new development is necessary both at front office (taxpayer facing front) and back office (tax officer facing front). Further many changes have taken place in the GST system over the last five years which have to be kept in view to ensure the new IT development is consistent with the current state of the IT system and in line with the SC order, Additional Solicitor General R Venkataraman argued.

Goyal to attend IPEF meeting in US next week

Commerce minister to meet USTR & trade secy, huddle with tech firms to woo investment in chip making

FE BUREAU New Delhi, September 2

COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY minister Piyush Goyal will attend the crucial Indo-Pacific Economic Framework (IPEF) ministerial meeting and huddle with top executives of select American companies and industry bodies to woo investments — especially in the semiconductor segment — during his six-day visit to the US from September 5. It will be the first in-person ministerial meeting of the IPEF since its launch by US President Joseph Biden on May 23. The meeting is expected to expedite the process of firming up concrete goals of the US-led initiative, which is viewed by some analysts as a mechanism to counter the aggressive and non-transparent trade and economic policies of China. Goyal is scheduled to meet US trade representative Katherine Tai and commerce secretary Gina M Raimondo on the sidelines of the IPEF meeting to further deepen trade and investment ties. He will also attend the India-US

Strategic Partnership Forum confer-

The two-day IPEF meet, which will be held in Los Angeles from September 8, will focus on four pillars relating to trade, supply chains, clean economy and fair economy. During the course of his visit to San Francisco and Los Angeles, Goyal will meet investors across sectors, especially electronics, technology, and fintech. He will also call on American firms to take advantage of India's $10-billion incentive plan for manufacturing semiconductors here, according to official sources.

Interactive sessions have also been lined up with key players in the startup community, such as venture capi talists, angel investors, and unicorns.

"The visit would focus upon emphasising the attractiveness of India as the most preferred investment destination," according to a commerce ministry statement.

It seeks to strengthen economic partnership among participating countries with the objective of enhancing resilience, sustainability inclusiveness, economic growth, fairness and competitiveness in the region. The IPEF comprises 14 members — Australia, Brunei, Fiji, India, Indonesia, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, New Zealand, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, Vietnam and the US.

The US emerged as India's top trading partner last fiscal, beating China. Trade between the US and India stood at $119 billion in FY22, having jumped from $80.5 billion in the previous year. Simi larly, the US is the third-largest source of foreign direct investment inflows into India.

NTPC slows coal imports as stocks improve

Imports in FY23 seen at 12 MT

SURYA SARATHI RAY New Delhi, September 2

WITH IMPROVEMENT IN domestic coal supplies, state-run power producer NTPC may go slow on its fuel imports plan. While the company, the country's largest power producer, has already contracted to import 10 million tonne (MT) of coal so far this year under a power ministry directive, it may import only another 2 MT of the fuel in the remainder of the fiscal, according to company sources.

Yet, coal imports this fiscal will be about five times last year's level. The imported coal will be blended with the domestic fuel to boost supply, sources in the company said.

As per the Central Electricity Authority (CEA) report, with around 11.46 MT coal stocks now, NTPC is not facing any coal shortage, as of now. The stock was just around 3 MT at the same time in the last fiscal year.

NTPC's total coal requirement for the current fiscal is estimated to be 247 MT. In its annual report, NTPC said that the requirement will be met through long-term fuel supply agreements from Coal India and SCCL, bridge linkage, captive mines, and e-auction apart from imports.

NTPC had imported 2.47 MT of coal last fiscal and just 0.92 MT in the previous fiscal. It received 196 MT coal in 2021-22 and 170 MT in 2020-21. In the first quarter of the current fiscal, it imported 4.33 MT of coal compared with just 0.47 MT in the same period last fiscal.

The company's captive mines produced 4.24 MT in the first quarter of the current fiscal which is 60% higher than the previous year. In the last fiscal, its coal mines produced 14 MT of dry fuel.

For meeting the increased generation, the ACQ needs to be enhanced by CIL.

Around 20 gigawatts (GW) of capacity in the country is designed to run on imported coal. These capacities, on an aggregate basis, is running at a PLF of around 34%. If all these imported coal-based stations run at full capacity, other generators such as NTPC, DVC, and state gencos like Tamil Nadu, Haryana, Punjab, Maharashtra, and Andhra Pradesh may not be required to import coal for blending.

SHARP FALL IN INTERNATIONAL PRICE

Steel prices may remain under pressure

FE BUREAU

New Delhi, September 2

ALREADY DOWN BY 26% in the current fiscal so far, steel prices are likely to remain under pressure over the near term in line with the sharp price fall in the international market, rating agency ICRA said on Friday.

The price fall in the international market is mainly because of the subdued demand, particularly from China which accounted for 52% of global steel demand. Russia-Ukraine war and policy rate hikes by Central banks are also impacting demand across the world. A recovery is also not in sight in the near-term.

"India is the only bright spot in the variable component for the first

"We have come across com-pack for now, with our crude steel production growing by a healthy rate of 8.9% in April-July of the current fiscal. The Central and state government's combined capex spends is budgeted to increase by over 22% in the current fiscal, and we therefore expect domestic steel demand to grow at a healthy rate of 7-8% in FY23, making India one of the fastest growing large steel markets globally this year," Jayanta Roy, Senior vice-President & Group Head, Corporate Sector Ratings, ICRA.

However, while domestic steel demand growth remained strong at 10.6% in April-July of the current fiscal, domestic spot hot rolled coil (HRC) prices corrected by a steep 26% in FY23 so far, reaching ₹56,700/tonne in end-August 2022, levels last seen in March 2021. "This has largely been influenced by the 30-45% correction in international steel prices in the current fiscal. We expect domestic steel prices to remain under pressure over the near term, since domestic steel prices cannot be insulated from the trends emerging in global steel markets,"Roy said.

Govt links funds release to usage

Thanks to the calibrated release of funds, buoyant tax receipts and steps to rationalise revenue expenditure, the Centre is unlikely to raise its gross market borrowing in FY23 from the budgeted level to fund the fiscal deficit. This is despite large additional spending commitments on subsidies and the revenue loss from tax cuts on auto fuels announced in May.

The Centre is budgeted to spend ₹11.8 trillion through central sector schemes and another ₹4.43 trillion in the centrally sponsored schemes in FY23. The Budget estimate for total expenditure is ₹39.4 trillion in FY23.

Lower floating of funds will help the Centre calibrate borrowings and is estimated to save nearly ₹10,000 crore annually in interest costs, tive to the Budget estimates at according to a source.

The Centre had budgeted to restrict revenue expenditure at ₹31.94 trillion in FY23, down 0.2% from the actual spending of ₹32.01 trillion in FY22. It intended to rein in the fiscal deficit at 6.4% of GDP from 6.7% last fiscal. However, the Budget calculations went haywire after the Ukraine war caused massive disruptions in the global supply chains, leading to a spike in international commodity prices. This, in turn, forced the government to raise the fertiliser subsidy from ₹1.05 trillion in BEFY23 to ₹2.15 trillion (it could be even higher at ₹2.25 trillion), on top of ₹80,000 crore additional spending on account of the extension of the free ration scheme by six months through September. The cut in the fuel excise duty in May to tame inflation may lead to about ₹85,000 crore loss in excise revenues in FY23, which will further exert pressure on the government's balance sheet.

"However, a large part of this would be absorbed by higher-thanestimated non-excise taxes, as well as the windfall tax on domestic crude oil production and export duties on petroleum products, limiting the extent of the overshoot in the government's fiscal deficit in FY23 rela-₹30,000-80,000 crore," rating agency Icra chief economist Aditi Nayar said.

"Unless the free food grain scheme (Pradhan Mantri Garib Kalyan Ann Yojana) is extended beyond September 2022, we do not expect the fiscal deficit to exceed 6.4% of GDP based on a nominal GDP of ₹272.1 trillion," she added.

Adhere to digital loan norms by Nov 30: RBI

The August 10 guidelines require REs to ensure that all loan servicing and repayments are executed by the borrower directly into the RE's bank account without any pass-through account or pool account of a third party. REs will also have to ensure that no disbursals are made to a third-party account including the accounts of LSPs and their DLAs.

The only exceptions to this would be disbursals covered exclusively under statutory or regulatory man dates, flow of money between REs for co-lending transactions and disbursals for specific end users, provided the loan is disbursed directly into the bank account of the endbeneficiary.

Demand for MGNREGS work falls to 34-month low in Aug

Govt also seems to be curbing its spending on the job scheme

FE BUREAU New Delhi, September 2

DEMAND FOR WORK from individuals under Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Scheme (MGN-REGS) has been on the wane since July this year and fell to its lowest in 34 months to 19.2 million persons in August, mirroring an improvement in economic activities in the urban centres.

However, an even sharper decline in the supply of the jobs under the popular scheme—person days (work) generated in August was a fourth of that in May — indicate that the authorities have curbed spending on the scheme. Paucity of funds could be one of the reasons for suppressed demand, one labour activist said. Of the ₹73,000 crore budgetary allocation for the scheme, already ₹48,275 crore has

The scheme's mandate additional outlay for the under the MGNREG Act, 2005, is to provide at least 100 days of 'wage employment' in a financial year to every rural household whose adult member volunteers to do unskilled manual work. However, while an average of only 50.07 days of work was provided to such rural households in 2021-22; so far in the current fiscal, it stands at 32.2 days. This is despite the fact that only 46 million households have worked for the scheme so far compared with entire last fiscal's 72.6 million. Also only 63.2 million individuals workers have worked this year so far compared with 106.2 million in the last fiscal.

Aganst a total of 3.63 billion person days of work generation in the entire last fiscal, 1.48 billion person days of work have been generated thus far in the current year under the scheme.

Some analysts are of the view that the authorities are going slow on reporting the demand at the ground level, given that more than 66% of the Budget allocation for the current fiscal has already been spent.

Deficit in paddy sowing narrows to 5.6% from 12% in three weeks

SANDIP DAS New Delhi, September 2

THE DEFICITIN paddy sowing has declined in the last three weeks because of revival of monsoon rains in parts of key growing regions of Uttar Pradesh, Bihar and West Bengal. As per the data released by the agriculture ministry on Friday, the deficit in paddy sown regions has reduced to 5.6% against the same period last year, while the decline was 12% for the week ended August 12.

Area under paddy in West Bengal, the largest rice-producing state, was down by more than 10.5% on year on Friday while three weeks ago the deficit was 31%.

Paddy sowing has been hit mainly because of severe deficiency in monsoon rainfall against the benchmark in key states — Uttar Pradesh (-44%), Bihar (-38%) West Bengal (-18%) and Jharkhand (-26%).

The paddy acreage has declined by close to a million hectare (mh) in Jharkhand, 0.44 mh in West Bengal, 0.26 mh in Uttar Pradeh and 0.21 mh in Bihar. Lower paddy sowing has raised concern about rice production for the 2022-23 crop year (July-June) which would decline by 6 - 10 million tonne (mt) less than 2021-22 crop year's record level of 129 mt, according to trade estimates.There are also concerns about a possible rise in prices of rice if kharif production declines as the season accounts for around 80% of the country's rice production.

Overall kharif crops paddy, pulses, oilseeds, cotton and nutri-cereals etc have been sown in 106.9 mh as on Friday which is decline of 1.2% against 108.2 mh reported a

Overall paddy sowing area across the country was reported at 38.3 mh which was 5.6% less than year ago. Average annual area under kharif paddy between 2016-17 -2020-21 was 39.7 mh.

While oilseeds such as soyabean and groundnut have been sown in 18.8 mh which is marginally less than last year. Pulses have been sown in 4.3% less area than last year.

India imports about 56% of its edible oil requirement while around 15% of domestic pulses consumption is met through imports.

The cotton sowing has been up by 6.8% so far while sugarcane planting has been marginally higher than last year.

According to India Meteorological Department, cumulative monsoon rains between June 1- September 2 was 756 mm which was 6% (above normal level) more than the normal benchmark – long period average (LPA) of 714 mm.

While several regions in southern, central and northwestern India have witnessed water logging and flood-like situations, deficient rainfall in Uttar Pradesh, West Bengal,

Aviation minister Scindia asks states to cut VAT on aviation fuel

Pune, September 2

FE BUREAU

UNION CIVIL AVIATION minister Jyotiraditya Scindia on Friday called for a reduction in value added tax (VAT) on aviation turbine fuel by states. Only 16 of the 24 states had responded positively to this proposal, Scindia said. Speaking at the Mahratta Chambers of Commerce, Industries and Agriculture in Pune, Scindia said aviation turbine fuel accounted for 40% of the airlines' cost structure. When he took over the aviation ministry, 12 states charged 1-4% VAT on ATF and 24 states/UTs charged 20-30%. At present, only eight states are charging VAT at 20-30% and 16 states had moved to the 1-4% VAT rates, he said. Scindia said at a time when ATF prices had gone up from ₹53,000 per kilo litre to ₹1,41,000 per kilo litre, paying 20-30% VAT would not be viable for airlines. He urged Maharashtra, which was among the states charging high tax, to step forward and lower the minister announced that the defence ministry had provided additional 14 slots per day for the Pune Airport, a defencecontrolled airport. From Monday to Saturday, slots had gone up from 102 to 116 and slots on Sunday had gone up from 131 to 145. He called for improving international connectivity from Pune and said Vistara had applied for connectivity to Singapore.

The Pune Airport had a capacity of 7.7 million per annum and work had started on the new terminal building that would be ready in August 2023 and take capacity to 17 million with an investment of ₹475 crore, Scindia said. The ₹120 crore multilevel car parking will be ready in October. Cargo capacity at the airport was being expanded from 25,000 metric tonnes to 43,000 metric tonnes by March '23. An international air cargo terminal would come up in December 2024.

• AMID ROW OVER DURGA PUJA GRANT...

West Bengal seeks faster release of Central funds

INDRONIL ROYCHOWDHURY Kolkata, September 2

WESTBENGALCHIEF minister,

Mamata Banerjee's decision to provide the state's over 40,000 registered Durga Puja committees a grant of ₹60,000 each has brought the issue of state's weak fiscal health into sharp focus.

Banerjee's announcement, if implemented, would translate into an outgo of just ₹258 crore to celebrate 'Durga Puja in Kolkata' being inscribed by Unescoas the Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity, which according to the chief minister, would also help in promoting tourism and bring about social upliftment.

However, state government employees' unions, especially those belonging to the Opposition camp, have hit the streets protesting against the grant, given the hike in their dearness allowance has been held back since 2019 citing financial crunch. According to the Economic Review 2021-22, published by the state government's department of planning and statistics, West Bengal's debt stood at 37.5% of the gross state domestic product in 2020-21, much higher than the 20% limit set for states' debt by the NK Singh-led FRBM review committee in its 2017 report. Clearly, West Bengal is among the most indebted states in the country.

The state has to repay debt of ₹60,401 crore in FY 23. The state's fiscal deficit has been pegged at 3.64% of the GSDP in FY23 and revenue deficit at 1.65%. Though Covid-19 has resulted in a deterioration of the financial health of both the Centre and states due to the additional healthcare and welfare expenditures, West Bengal's fiscal situation is a cause for concern. The cessation of the GST compensation from July has amplified the concerns over revenue flows, although robust GST collections over the recent months have come as a relief. Also, the Centre has fast-tracked tax devolution to states and started releasing the capex loan announced in the Budget. In a recent letter to Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Banerjee wrote that the central government's outstanding dues to the state, as on July 31, 2022, were ₹1,00,968.44 crore. This amount included GST dues, revenue deficit grants.

The state government contends that states' GSDP growth, which was higher than national average in recent years, would help it to tide over the fiscal crisis, with prompt support from the Centre.

Adani Group's debt to go up to ₹2.6 trn, says Credit Suisse

However, cash flows have grown steadily; net debt/Ebitda has come down to 5x in FY22

FE BUREAU New Delhi, September 2

THE RECENT ACQUISITION by the Adani Group of cement maker Holcim's India businesses is expected to add another ₹40,000 crore to the Group's debt, taking it to approximately ₹2.6 trillion, an analysis by Credit Suisse showed.

The Gautam Adani-led Group has seen its debt levels increase over the past five years from ₹1 trillion to ₹2.2 trillion, fuelled by the expansion of the ports business, investments in green energy, the acquisition of transmission business, and venturing into newer areas (Adani Enterprises) such as airports, roads and data centres.

Analysts at Credit Suisse noted that while the gross debt levels may have risen, the Group has managed to diversify its debt in favour of bonds and financial institution (FI) lenders with longer maturity tenors. "As compared to about 86% of debt maturing within five years at end-FY16 (debt levels of ₹1 trillion), only 26% of the debt is now maturing in less than five years," they said.

In terms of currency, approximately 30% of the overall debt is denominated in foreign currency. Moreover, as the absolute levels of Indian bank loans to Adani have remained stable over the past five years, their share of the total debt has come off significantly to just about 18%.

The analysts pointed out that

JSW Steel to sell stake in Chile JV

FE BUREAU Mumbai, September 2

JSW STEEL, THE flagship company of the diversified JSW Group, has signed an agreement to sell its entire stake in Chile's Santa Fe Mining to Diego Calvo SpA, due to unviable business conditions. It has also proposed to liquidate investments in other subsidiaries in Chile over the due course of time.

JSW Steel is selling the venture for $700, and the deal is expected to be completed by September 30, the company said in a regulatory update.

The Mumbai-based firm holds a 70% stake in Santa Fe Mining, which is held through its wholly-owned subsidiary, Inversiones Eurosh Limitada (IEL). Earlier in 2008, JSW Steel had entered into a joint venture with Chile's Minera Santa Fe, controlled by a local entrepreneur, Leonardo Farkas Klein, to develop iron ore mines in South America, including Chile.

The JV firm — Santa Fe Mining holds iron ore exploration concessions across mines in Belavista and Vinita in the Atacama region. The consolidated negative net worth of Santa Fe Mining is ₹517 crore, it said.

"While the lease of Bellavista, which had been operationalised, was terminated in FY21 due to uncertainties arising post Covid-19 , in view of the then prevailing market conditions, iron ore mining in other mines was economically not viable...," JSW Steel said in the exchange notice.

Mumbai, September 2

AS CONSUMER DURABLE companies gear up for the upcoming festive season with hopes of robust sales of refrigerators, washing machines and TV sets, the Covidrelated lockdowns in Shenzhen, China, have raised some concerns.

Majority of the components for electronic products are imported from China and the city of Shenzhen is known to be the hub for electronic components. The Chinese government has put the city under lockdown because of rising Covid cases.

The consumer durables industry imports over 60% of components for ACs and around 25% for refrigerators from China. Though

Engaging with Pakistan

India must immediately extend food and other humanitarian assistance to the disaster-stricken nation

TATIME Pakistan is reeling from a "monsoon on steroids"—with one-thirds of the country under water that has affected 33 million people-India must step up engagement, including extending humanitarian assistance to its neighbour. There is no reason why it can't help Pakistan as it has helped Sri Lanka and Afghanistan. Pakistan is also desperately short of foreign exchange to import essentials and is seeking IMF assistance. No doubt, there are different voices within the Pakistan government on sourcing vegetables and food from India. Last year, too, these conflicting signals came in the way of importing sugar and cotton. As political tensions continue to cast a long and troubled shadow over bilateral cooperation, India has taken the position that the onus is on Pakistan for trade to resume. No decision has also been taken on sending aid. From India's point of view, the neighbour's sponsorship of cross-border terrorism stands in the way of any entente cordiale. Pakistan considers the restoration of the pre-August 5, 2019, status of Jammu and Kashmir as the core issue bedeviling bilateral relations. But these issues pale before the sheer scale of humanitarian disaster unfolding in Pakistan. The time to act is now. India must offer to rush food and other assistance immediately to Pakistan.

Interestingly, bilateral frictions have not come in the way of trade. Islamabad has for long denied most-favoured-nation status to India's goods. India, too, withdrew MFN status to Pakistan in February 2019 after the Pulwama terror attacks. MFN status ensures non-discriminatory trade between partner countries. Despite Islamabad's ban on trade with India, it has almost doubled its imports during April-June this fiscal from India of sugar and sugar confectionery, organic chemicals and pharma products. There is no reason why India cannot significantly increase its imports from that country beyond items like dates. India's trade with Pakistan dwindled to $516 million in FY22 while our two-way trade with Bangladesh is 35-times larger, at $18 billion. It is also a well-established fact that scale of informal trade is several multiples larger than formal trade. Clearly, there are interdependencies between India and Pakistan that must be seized on the trade front. Otherwise, there will be a huge loss in potential opportunities, contrary to economic theory which states that neighbouring countries often tend to trade more with each other.

India must reach out to its biggest neighbour in its hour of need. Perhaps the best occasion for doing so could be when prime minister Narendra Modi and his Pakistani counterpart Shehbaz Sharif meet on the sidelines of the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation summit at Samarkand, Uzbekistan in mid-September. PM Modi, for his part, has said that he was saddened by the devastation caused by the floods in Pakistan. PM Sharifin turn thanked PM Modi for his concern. When both leaders meet, India must go further than expressing commiseration. The uptick in Pakistan's recent imports is a favourable augury for commerce to resume even if it is only food and vegetables for starters. Due to its bilateral problems with Pakistan, India has preferred regional groupings like the Bay of Bengal Initiative for Multi-Sectoral Technical and Economic Cooperation to the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation. Unfortunately, the truth is that as the dominant power in the region, India cannot address the unfinished agenda of South Asian integration without engaging Pakistan.

Wall Street is in denial over the US economy

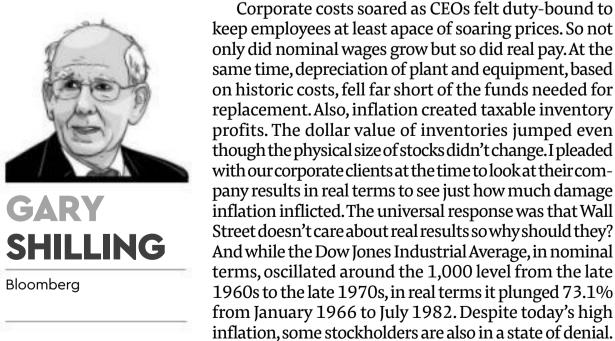

Everyone is too focused on the still decent nominal data when the inflation-adjusted numbers tell a dire story

WE KNOW THAT the US economy is currently weak, but the real economy is really weak, and the Federal Reserve's commitment to precipitate a recession to curb high inflation will make this reality obvious to seemingly oblivious investors. Real GDP dropped for two consecutive quarters, and although the NBER has yet to declare that a recession is underway, those who concentrate on nominal numbers, uncorrected for high inflation, still hope that a business downturn can be avoided. They talk about rising wages in a tight labour market with low unemployment and job openings exceeding the number unemployed. Hourly pay in nominal terms is up 8.8% since May 2021.

But corrected for inflation, real wages have declined, bringing the cumulative drop to 3.2%. Even nominal wage growth is slipping, with March's annual growth rate of 5.6% slowing to 5.2% in July. When other sources of personal income are included and income taxes are subtracted, disposable personal income rose 6.8% in the second quarter from a year earlier but fell 0.6% when adjusted for inflation. Those who believe consumer spending is robust confuse the overlays of inflation for the real economy. Since March 2021, nominal retail sales rose 6.9% but are down 4.1% in real terms.

Denial of the ravages of inflation was widespread in the late 1960s and 1970s when huge federal spending on the Vietnam War and Great Society programmes pushed the economy into double-digit inflation. Despite the Johnson administration's belief, the economy did not have the supply of labour or the industrial capacity to produce both arsenals of military outlays and civilian products.

On August 16, Walmart Inc. reported 8.4% revenue growth in the quarter ended July 31 from a year earlier, less than the 8.5% surge in the consumer price index. Grocery sales volume dropped during the quarter and operating income fell 6.8%. Still, investors bid up Walmart shares 5.1% the day of that announcement.

On August 23, Macy's Inc cut its forecasts for this year due to the economic downturn, the slowdown in consumer spending and markdowns and promotions to get rid of excess inventories. Sales in stores that were open at least a year fell 1.5% in its second quarter from a year earlier. Still, shares of Macy's closed 3.8% higher that day.

Today's high inflation is clearly eroding corporate results. From the second quarter of 2021 through the second quarter of this year, gross value-added of corporate business (in effect, corporate sales) rose 12.7% nominally but just 5.1% in real terms. After-tax corporate profits did worse, rising 7.4% but only 0.1% when corrected for inflation. Inflation may have reached its peak, but will no doubt recede slowly. So, the 5% increase in S&P 500 earnings that Wall Street analysts forecast for 2022, as reported by S&P Global, will amount to a real decline. Investors, no doubt, will pierce the veil of inflation and shift their emphasis to the growing weakness in real corporate revenues and earnings. That, in part, may be behind the recent renewed sell-off in equities. My earlier forecast of a 40% total drop in the S&P 500 from the early January peak is still relevant.

GIG ECONOMY, MILLENNIALS & GENZ

BUSINESSES MUST LEARN HOW NEWER DIGITAL MODES OF INTERACTION AFFECT SOCIALISATION HABITS IN GENERAL

The GEMZ conundrum

S ONE FROM the Boomer generation, I look at the current society with curiosity, forwe see the "beta" generation merging into the "meta" generation. The binary between the physical and the digital world is getting diminished, and we constantly (struggle to) navigate both these worlds simultaneously. The Indian demography has more than 65% under the age of 35 years, constituting the digital native generation. This essentially means that the biggest productive workforce in the decades to come would be today's youngsters. That should account for their "influence" across society, social media, polity, etc. Can technology be used as a sociodevelopmental tool? Aren't we (digital non-natives) living in their generation and trying to make rules for their future?

We are in a crucial phase in India where Gig Economy, Millennials & GenZ (GEMZ) play a large role. The gig economy is a freemarket system in which businesses work with independent freelancers, as opposed to hiring full-time workers. India's gig sector is expected to grow to $455 billion by 2024, at a compounded annual growth rate of 17%. A study in 2021 about millennials found that 64% of full-time millennial workers globally want to have at least some participation in the gig workforce. Has the pandemic lockdown and consequent societal behavioural changes hastened this? With millennials moving into mid- to senior-management roles, and GenZ gradually becoming a part of the workforce, we are relearning what constitutes "employment". But the unasked question is: Does gig working promote flexibility, empowerment and entrepreneurship at work, or is it really a form of opportunistic exploitation?

The younger consumers are also those who have the disposable income and the attitude to spend on consumption, be it vanity products, experiences, house purchase, vehicles, dining, healthcare or selfpreservation ideas like spa, salons, etc. This does give rise to newer business models to serve these consumers. Imagine a financier giving EMI option for bridal makeup or botox or Buy Now Pay Later for holidays. Isn't this instant gratification at extended payment mode? Gen-Z (estimated at one-third of the population) choose skills over pay levels, experiences over career, and are reshaping societal norms and concept of corporate etiquette. They are a hypercognitive generation, comfortable with collating various diverse sources of information, with the intersection of virtual and offline experiences. What do our young sters want? For starters, they seek experience and exploration, rather than just an experience certificate. They seek memories instead of just getting services. They seek instant joy versus long-term stability. The learnings of the previous generations may not be able to provide context for the GEMZ generation to emulate or even hold their attention. They aspire for everything "better than what they have or don't have".

If we use this context and add the complexity of living in a VUCA world, how does one design organisation structures to productively employ the younger generation? The conventional management structures of command won't work, and modern firms have to move to an impact and accountability framework. How do we learn about their motivation, aspirations, interests and design roles to keep them engaged and empowered, and not feel simply entitled?

India's total internet user base, as of January 2022, stood at 658 million, with plenty of room to grow.'Jiofication'—the launch of Jio network in 2016 and its subsequent scaled rollout across Indiabrought in pricing that almost made internet-access an inclusive phenomenon across India. space in India, while, Instagram is also very popular amongst urban youth. The basis of 'narcissism' and 'voyeurism' works well for social media platforms. What I am doing' and 'what is someone else doing' are both important aspects that they offer with much economic success. Our millennials and GenZ are the most active social media users. Potentially, internet access and social media platforms offer them opportunities for learning, articulating and experimenting with news ideas and creativity, networking with online communities of interest, online business & accessing (newer) markets and services.

Youngsters use social media to have fun, share interests, explore their own multiple identities and develop relationships with family. However, different segments of social media users use it differently. Digitally-savvy millennials in India post Stories on Instagram, share memes on Facebook, watch videos on YouTube, post opinions on Twitter, and chat with each other on Facebook Messenger. For older Indians, WhatsApp is the ultimate social network! Pictures and selfies from your recent holiday will not go onto FB or Insta. Videos don't go on YouTube, and jokes and smart statements don't go on Twitter. WhatsApp is an extension of their offline and face-to-face interactions! Conversations range from mindless interactions to mindful intimacy. We inform, without engaging.

Assessment, which involves the comparison of costs and

So any communication with the youngsters, be it from the organisations they work in or with, or the communities they are part of, have to factor these in. It is important that businesses learn how newer digital modes of interaction affect socialisation habits in general.

Social media offers opportunities for the youth to connect to the world, to express their opinions without inhibitions, and to learn more. Even though social media platforms 'connect' more number of people, they still seems to increase the feeling of 'isolation'. It reduces the number of face-to-face interactions amongst the youth because they normally spend most of their time on these online social platforms. Are those 'connections' sustainable & productive? Is this what we are seeing where corporates are struggling to get youngsters back to office?

The thin dividing line between content-consumer and content-creator is becoming blurred. The key attribute of such a format is that it allows them to converse with their community together as a whole. Where does one draw the line of what is privacy and personal-privacy?

With these challenges of communication,connectivity,convergence of human interaction and digital interface, the future of businesses needs deeper understanding of GEMZ. If we still haven't learnt about our youngsters, when will we? For they already dream and desire in digital.

Aspirer. Considering its poor unemployment and fiscal situation, Rajasthan must essential. The state has taken radical steps in the past, such as allowing small units to start without any entry formalities for five of documents required to apply for Certificate to Establish, and Certificate to Operate (CTO/CTE). In Punjab, CTE needs

only four documents (site plan, board resolution, document indicating the designation to land, and a land document such as registration or rent deed). Andhra

Pradesh requires details of potential water sources in addition. However, in addition to these five documents, Rajasthan asks

One such step is reducing the number

PRADEEP S MEHTA & TANYA GOYAL

Authors are with CUTS International

Rajasthan provides different periods for decision-making on applications, depending on the nature of the industry. For red category industries, the application is to be accepted or rejected within 90 days; for orange, in 50 days, and for green industries, in 7 days. However, in Andhra Pradesh, the total period for decisionmaking is between 7 and 21 days.

Third, change of land use in Rajasthan is to be completed in 60 days, never adhered to in practice. However, in Haryana, this is to be completed in 45 days. Given 'change of land use' certificate is essential, the direct and indirect costs of the delay are likely to be substantial.

Fourth, Telangana grants NOC based on Third Party Verifications for fire clearances. Rajasthan doesn't provide for selfcertification or third-party verification. Here the municipal councillors have a role, and thus rent-seeking takes place.

These inconsistencies and procedural hassles in Rajasthan could be by oversight. It would be wise to adopt the best practices from other states for better procedures.

Recently, finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman released the Business Reform Action Plan (BRAP) 2020 report, listing the top states to do business in India. Rajasthan doesn't figure in the top 13. Unnecessary and avoidable compliance requirements are a key reason for a large proportion of investment commitments not materialising. Typically, only around 15% materialises on the ground.

A CUTS International study, Doing Business in Rajasthan, with the support of the CM Rajasthan Economic Transformation Advisory Council (CMRETAC), focues on compliance and regulatory philosophy. Reviewing the frameworks adopted by different countries to enhance EODB and reduce compliance burden, CUTS zeroed in on the globally recognised Regulatory Guillotine (RG) framework to design a methodology for Rajasthan.

The RG framework rapidly reviews compliances through a consultative mechanism, reverses the burden of proof, and requires clearances to pass the tests of legality, necessity, and proportionality. Only if a requirement passes all three tests should it be retained. The RG framework can be reviewed and revived. This has already been recommended by the state government in January 2021.

Institutionalising an efficient regulation-making process, which can estimate with reasonable accuracy the possibility of a regulatory proposal achieving the regulatory objective and its likely impacts on different stakeholders in the state, is needed. Such assessment is also critical during the lifetime of regulation, to ensure it continues to remain relevant.

Rajasthan can adopt and implement the Regulatory Impact Assessment (RIA) to better the ease of doing business and to introduce better regulations. RIA is a globally recognised process that involves the estimation and comparison of costs and benefits of different regulatory proposals, and their likelihood of achieving objectives. The aim is to enhance investor confidence and augment the EODB. For this, civil society and research groups'engagement could contribute significantly.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

BJP's strategy vis-a-vis the Aam Aadmi Party

The political sparring between the BJP and the AAP buttresses the comment that there is never a dull moment in Indian politics. Both the parties hurled allegations and counter-allegations. BJP's charge was that there was corruption in the grant of licenses for liquor outlets in Delhi and in the construction of schools. APP's counter was that the Delhi Lieutenant Governor VKSaxena changed banned currency notes worth ₹1,400 crore during the 2016 demonetisation and the BJP had set aside ₹800 crore to buy 40 AAP MLAs. The CBI could so far find nothing to prove the charge of corruption against Manish Sisodia despite raids in his house and opening of his bank locker. Clearly, the BJP's no holds barred attack on the AAP was part of the BJP's agenda to weaken the Kejriwal-led party politically. -G David Milton, Maruthancode

Learn from Punjab on expert leadership

Kudos indeed to the Bhagwant Mannled AAP government in Punjab for taking theh very commendable and apt decision to recognise the talent and expertise of Sukhpal Singh, an agro- economist at the Punjab Agricultural University; he richly deserves to don the mantle of chairman, Punjab Farmers Commission, because of his remarkable research and fieldwork in Punjab agriculture. His choice for this august office by Mann hopefully should prove instrumental in ameliorating the lot and the present plight of farmers in the state. Let the Centre and other state governments of the nation too take a leaf from the Punjab government's book to encourage expert leadership. -PK Sharma, Barnala

PRIVATE SECTOR LENDER Yes Bank on Friday increased the interest rates on its non-resident external account (NRE) fixed deposits by 50-75 basis points (bps) and on foreign currency nonresident (FCNR) deposits by 20 bps. With this, the NRE fixed deposit rate maturing in up to 18 months stands at 7.01% while for those longer than 18 months it stands at 7.25%, applicable to deposits below ₹5 crore. The bank will also offer a peak rate of 4.05-4.25% on FCNR deposits with

The interest rate hike follows the recent announcement made by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) to aid incremental fund flows, the lender said in a press release.

"The recent relaxation announced by the RBI to attract forex inflows has allowed us a window to hike interest rates on our NRE and FCNR fixed deposit offerings, thus extending the benefit to our customers," said Prashant Kumar, managing director and chief executive officer of the bank.

The central bank in July decided to allow banks to raise without reference to existing restrictions on interest rates till

RBI to minimise growth sacrifice

TOTAL RESERVES with the RBI fell over $3 billion during the week ended August 26 to $561 billion.

Das said that the transmission of rate hikes has been faster on the lending side than on the deposits side, although loan rates are yet to fully reflect the quantum of hikes. Banks have already raised deposit rates and some have also launched new deposit schemes. "So the gap between lending and deposit rates is closing because we are gradually pulling out the excess liquidity. Coupled with that is credit growth, and banks are being forced to raise deposit rates as a result," Das said, adding that deposits will yield more in the days ahead.

The RBI's supervision and surveillance of credit growth at banks and other institutions is quite meticulous and it keeps an eye on instances of over-lending, Das said. "We make a detailed analysis of which segments are seeing excessive credit growth. Growth is generally not uniform across lending institutions. Wherever we see a trend of excessive lending, we caution the relevant lenders, be they banks, NBFCs, small finance banks or cooperative banks,"he said.

The regulator asks them to assess whether their excessive growth is sustainable and seeks a report. "Wherever required, we also ask them to do an internal review in order to assess and manage risks properly," Das said.

The governor said that all financial sector players are, by and large, happy with the digital lending guidelines released on August 10. He outlined three underlying principles behind the norms. Firstly, they are consumer-centric, because customers will now know the all-inclusive annualised interest rate they'll be charged. Secondly, there are guidelines on collection methods based on interactions with law enforcement agencies. The norms are based on risk assessment and risk mitigation in digital lending. They will apply to third-party loan service providers as well through the regu-

Das sought to dismiss the view that the RBI is in no mood to issue fresh banking licences, despite the presence of an on-tap window. "Our mindset is not to hold back on fresh banking licences. If applicants meet the 'fit and proper' criteria, they will be given licences," he said.

If small banks want to merge with and their ability to meet the fit and proper criteria," he added.

"The loss is the biggest in our corporate history and we take it very seriously," he said at the time. "We have to resort to big cost-cutting efforts at Vision Fund. The cost cutting efforts will have to include a reduction in head count - something I've made up my mind to do."

Rajeev Misra, who helped Son set up the initial Vision Fund with almost $100 billion in 2017, is stepping down from his roles as a corporate officer and executive vice president at SoftBank, the company said in a statement on Wednesday. He will continue to oversee the first Vision Fund's existing investments, while Son has said he will take over the management of new investments under the second Vision Fund. Son, who turned 65 in August, has been taking on increasing responsibility at the company he founded 40 years ago. Chief operating officer Marcelo Claure left earlier this year, while former chief strategy officer Katsunori Sago resigned in 2021.

The Japanese entrepreneur has told investors that he is taking defensive steps to navigate his way through a brutal tech downturn. SoftBank said last month that it had raised more than $17 billion by selling forward contracts on Alibaba Group Holding, the Chinese e-commerce company that made Son's reputation as a startup investor.

Son also said SoftBank has begun talks to sell asset manager Fortress Investment Group, acquired for $3.3 billion in 2017. To bolster SoftBank's share price, Son unveiled a fresh programme to buy back as much as 400 billion yen of its own stock.

Son is trying to wait out the technology slump so that he can pull off a successful initial public offering for Arm, the chip designer that Soft-Bank bought for $32 billion.

MOTORCYCLE REVIEW: BMW G 310 RR

German craft, perfected in India

Made in India by TVS Motor (as part of tie-up between BMW and TVS), the BMW G 310 RR is as good as any world-class motorcycle, even better

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 2022

VIKRAM CHAUDHARY

FROM THE PAINT quality to suspension, and from engine refinement to design, it's tough to find any area of improvement in the new BMW G 310 RR motorcycle. It looks like a labour of love, actually partnership. The G 310 RR is the third BMW midsize motorcycle to roll out from the lines of TVS Motor's manufacturing facility in Hosur, Tamil Nadu (as part of tie-up between BMW and TVS). I recently rode it in and around Delhi.

What is the G 310 RR?

After the success of the G 310 R and the G 310 GS (launched in July 2018, of which over 10,000 units have been sold in India and 50,000 exported), comes the G 310 RR. It gets the same 312.12 cc engine as the other two, but looks and rides differently. Its competitors are TVS Apache RR 310 (same engine, but priced a bit less) and KTM RC 390 (more powerful, but more expensive).

What defines its design?

It is modelled on track-racing motorcycles. Distinctive features are the golden colour upside down front fork, handlebars with buttons to quickly switch between riding modes, alloy wheels and racing tyres (Michelin Pilot Street) and a big TFT display (looks like a mobile phone fitted on the dashboard).

How does it ride?

The riding position is front forward (upper body slightly leant forward). Handlebars are in easy reach for maximum control. The windscreen is functional and the wind blast on the face (helmet) is minimal (in front-forward riding position).

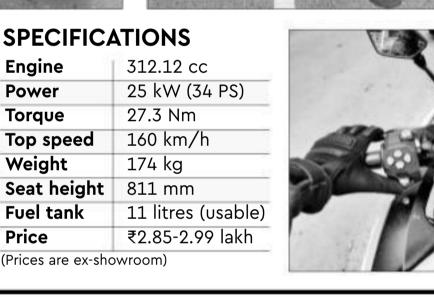

The power delivery of the engine is way too responsive. So much that you need to artfully control the clutch to keep the bike in control. Acceleration from any speed to any speed (in the right gear) is way too brisk, and the light weight of the bike (174 kg) makes it fly over speedbreakers if you happen to go too fast.

While this riding position leads to exceptional control, it is tiring. I couldn't continue in this position for more than half an hour. Although you can ride sitting straight (back upright), but that spoils the fun, and in that position because the handlebars go too far for good control, you cannot continue riding for long.

The G 310 RR is not a motorcycle for intercity trips, but for having fun around smooth winding roads. The suspension hates potholes. Braking is super-effective, and tyres just don't seem to lose grip on any kind of surface (as long as it is metalled). Power delivery and suspension performance can be controlled. In Track and Sport modes, the focus is on maximum performance (top speed is 160 km/h). In only difference is the design. But the TVS is priced lower.

expensive as well. Its MotoGP inspired bodywork sets it apart.

Urban and Rain modes, the focus is on control (top speed is limited to 125 km/h).

During my few days of riding in a mix of conditions—highway, track, broken roads and traffic—it returned about 30 km/litre fuel efficiency.

Is it worth the price?

It is priced ₹2.85 lakh for the black Standard variant and ₹2.99 lakh for the classy Style Sport variant. That makes it at least ₹20,000 more expensive than TVS Apache RR 310 (₹2.65 lakh) which is exactly the same bike (but without the BMW brand value). A few thousand rupees extra can get you KTM RC 390 (₹3.16 lakh), which is a more powerful motorcycle and whose MotoGP inspired bodywork sets it apart.

But none of those is a beemer.

THE RIGHT FUEL

INNOVAtion in petrol

Toyota has stopped taking orders for the diesel Innova Crysta. But the petrol model is on sale. Isn't petrol too expensive to run in a big car, or is that a perception?

VIKRAM CHAUDHARY

EARLIER THIS WEEK, Toyota Kirloskar Motor (TKM) said it has temporarily stopped taking orders for the diesel variant of the Innova Crysta, "due to its high demand that has resulted in an increased waiting period for the diesel variant."

TKM, however, added it will continue taking orders for the petrol variant of the Innova Crysta.

Petrol versus diesel

Small cars are usually powered by petrol and large cars by diesel, because diesel engines are more fuel efficient and provide high torque at low engine RPM. Large cars are heavy, and using petrol engines with lower fuel efficiency (than diesel) increases their running cost.

Traditionally, diesel has been a cheaper fuel in India than petrol (though the gap is closing), and that further lowers running costs of large petrol cars.

Innova is synonyms with diesel

Since its launch in 2005 till 2016, the Innova (it was rebranded as the Innova Crysta in 2015) was available only in diesel. In 2016, it got the big 2,694cc petrol engine (166 PS; 245 Nm), with a claimed fuel efficiency of 10.83 km/litre (the diesel returns 15.1 km/litre).

The petrol model gradually became popular because it made the already comfortable Innova Crysta more comfortable. Users realised that the cabin of the Innova Crysta petrol was far quieter than diesel, and vibrations so little that it made long journeys far more comfortable. Users also understood that despite its relatively lower fuel efficiency, the total cost of ownership of the Innova Crysta petrol was lesser than diesel, because the petrol model was priced lower (see table).

Auto analysts told FE that TKM might not re-launch the Innova Crysta diesel and may instead replace it with a strong hybrid mated to petrol engine. Be that as it may, this move by TKM proves that now is the start of the end of diesel even in large cars (it has already all but disappeared from the small car segment).

PRESSURE ON FED FOR A THIRD 75 BPS HIKE MAY EASE

US job growth solid in Aug, but labour market starting to loosen

315,000; unemployment rate rises to 3.7% as 700k enter labour market

LUCIA MUTIKANI Washington, September 2

US EMPLOYERS HIRED more workers than expected in August, but moderate wage growth and a rise in the unemployment rate to 3.7% could ease pressure on the Federal Reserve to deliver a third 75 basis point interest rate hike this month.

The Labor Department's closely watched employment report on Friday also showed a dip in the average workweek. The increase in the unemployment rate came as more than 700,000 entered the labour market, pushing the size of the labour force to a record high.

The overall strength in the labour market underscores the economy's resilience, despite the front-loading of rate hikes by the US central bank that have raised the risk of a recession.

Fed Chair Jerome Powell last week warned of a painful period of slow economic growth and possibly rising unemployment as the central bank aggressively tightens monetary policy to quell inflation.

"This gradual cooling off of the overheated labour market may be just what the US economy needs to help ease inflation pressure," said Eric Merlis, managing director, co-head of global markets at Citizens.

A 'Now hiring' sign is displayed on the window of a restaurant in California REUTERS

"The Fed should be encouraged by the increased labour force participation rate and the one-tenth drop in hourly earnings."

The survey of establishments showed non-farm payrolls increased by 315,000 jobs last month. Data for July was revised slightly down to show payrolls surging 526,000 instead of 528,000 as previously reported. August marked the 20th straight month of job growth. Employment is now 240,000 jobs above its pre-pandemic level.

Economists polled by Reuters had forecast payrolls increasing 300,000, with estimates ranging from as low as 75,000 to as high as 450,000. The broad increase in hiring last month was led by the professional and business services industry, which added 68,000 jobs. Healthcare payrolls increased by 48,000.

Employment in the retail trade sector rose by 44,000, while manufacturing added 22,000 jobs. Leisure and hospitality payrolls increased by 31,000, slowing from an average of 90,000 per month in the first seven months of the year.

Employment in the leisure and hospitality industry remains 1.2 million jobs below its pre-pandemic level.

US stocks opened higher. The dollar slipped against a basket of currencies. US Treasury prices were mixed.

Fierce loyalty to outgoing Prime Minister Boris Johnson is being cited as a key motivating factor in the choice of a majority for Truss, who was not among the ministers who resigned in the days before Johnson's forced exit from 10 Downing Street. The party's attraction to Truss' tax cutting promises is the other key factor behind her as the frontrunner to succeed Johnson.

HEARING IN APEX COURT

Govt reply sought on plea against HLL disinvestment

FE BUREAU

New Delhi, September 2

THE SUPREME COURT on Friday issued notice to the Centre and others on a petition challenging the government's decision to disinvest HLL Lifecare Ltd, the manufacturer of a range of contraceptives, women's healthcare products, hospital supplies as well as other pharmaceutical products.

A bench led by Justice SA Nazeer sought responses from the Centre and others on the petition filed by 'Sabka Sahyog Society,' which said that the company role during the Covid pandemic was noteworthy for the procurement and supply of emergency medical items.

While referring to the role played by HLL Lifecare during emergency relief, it said the country cannot afford to privatisation an entity like HLL Lifecare at this crucial juncture when the vaccination drive is still going on against the pandemic.

In March this year, the government said it has received multiple preliminary bids for HLL Lifecare. "The GoI has envisaged

the strategic disinvestment of HLL as a whole rather than separately in parts, where Interested Bidders can bid individually or in consortium," the government said in the information memorandum.

The Department of Investment and Public Asset Management (DIPAM) had invited preliminary bids for selling the government's 100% stake in the health sector Central Public Sector Enterprise (CPSE) under the administra tive control of the Union Ministry of Health and Family Welfare.

NEW ENSIGN OF THE INDIAN NAVY UNVEILED

INS Vikrant is a reflection of self-reliant India: PM

SUSHANT KULKARNI Kochi, September 2

THE COMMISSIONING COUNTRY'S first indigenously designed and built aircraft carrier into the Indian Navy, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said on Friday that INS Vikrant is "not just a warship"but"proof of hard work, ingenuity, influence and commitment of 21st century India", "a unique reflection of India becoming self-reliant".

In his address from the Cochin Shipyard in Kochi where a new ensign of the Indian Navy was also unveiled — it depicts the royal seal of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj and celebrates his naval prowess — Prime Minister Modi said a "burden of slavery" and a symbol of the country's colonial past has been done away with, befitting India's rich maritime heritage. "Changing global dynamics have made the world multipolar. That is why it is critical to keep a futuristic viewpoint towards global dynamics. For example, the area of the Indo-Pacific and Indian Ocean Region were always neglected in the past. But they are now a strategic priority for our country. That is why we are working towards upgrading our naval capabilities and increasing the budget outlay for the Navy," he said.

"Vikrant is not just a warship, it's proof of hard work, ingenuity, influence and commitment of 21st century India. Vikrant has filled the country with fresh confidence. Until now, only developed countries were able to develop aircraft carriers. By entering this league today, India has taken a step towards becoming a developed country," he said.

The Prime Minister referred to "boundless female" power" becoming "the lofty identity of the new India" and said, "Just as there are no boundaries for the waves, there will be no boundaries or restrictions for the daughters of India."

"As Vikrant is deployed for maritime security, many women will also be deployed officers in the Navy and now all the branches have been opened for the entry of women. Like the Navy, other services are also inducting women in their combat arms," he said.

"Atmanirbharta — selfreliance — and freedom go hand in hand. The more a nation is dependent on others, the more trouble it finds itself in. The more it is selfreliant, the more is its strength. During the Covid-19 crisis, we all experienced the power of being selfreliant," he said.

Modi also unveiled the new Naval Ensign or Nishaan. The St George's Cross in the earlier ensign has been removed "doing away with the colonial past and befitting the rich Indian maritime heritage". It now includes the crest of the Indian Navy on a navy blue background encompassed in an octagon representing the royal seal or raj mudra of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj.

"Today, India has taken off its chest a burden of colonial past and a symbol of servitude. Until now, a symbol of servitude remained on the ensign of the Indian Navy. But now, inspired by Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj, the ensign of the Indian Navy will fly high in the sky and the seas. Today, I dedicate this ensign to the father of naval prowess, Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj," he said.

The Naval Ensign is a flag

The great Indian student exodus that ships or formations carry to denote nationality. The current Indian Naval Ensign consists of a St George's Cross

— a red cross on a white background. In one corner of the cross, the Flag of India is placed — since independence, when the Union Jack there was replaced.

The Indian Naval Ensign has undergone changes multiple times since independence. It was only in 2001 that the St George's Cross was taken out and the Indian Navy crest added to the opposite corner of the ensign. The cross was brought back in 2004 with the addition of the Emblem of India at the intersection of the cross.

The IAC-1, now INS Vikarant, has been designed by the Warship Design Bureau, earlier known as the Directorate of Naval Design, and was constructed by the Cochin Shipyard Limited (CSL). The IAC-1 has taken the name, motto and pennant number R11 (Romeo One One) of India's first aircraft carrier which played a vital role in the 1971 war and was decommissioned in 1997 after a service of over 35 years. The name Vikrant is a Sanskrit word which means courageous. The motto 'Jayema Sam Yudhi Sprdhah' taken from the Rig Veda means 'We conquer those who fight us'. A series of trials, especially that of the aviation facility complex, will take place before the warship is declared fully operational. Its commissioning is seen as a boost to the government's Atmanirbhar Bharat and Make-in-India initiatives, centred around indigenous manufacturing and reducing import dependencies. It is also expected to propel the Navy's demand for a second indigenous carrier. In his address, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh described the commissioning of INS Vikrant at the onset of 'Amritkal' as a testament to the government's resolve to ensure the safety and security of the nation in the next 25 years.

"INS Vikrant is a glowing symbol of an aspirational and self-reliant'New India'. It is an icon of pride, power and resolve of the nation. Its commissioning is an unprecedented achievement in the path of building indigenous warships. The Indian Navy's tradition is 'old ships never die'. This new avatar of Vikrant, which played a stellar role in the 1971 war, is a humble tribute to our freedom fighters and brave soldiers," he said.

Singh also said that this is an assurance to friendly foreign countries that India is fully capable of meeting the collective security needs of the region. "We believe in a free, open and inclusive Indo-Pacific. Our efforts in this regard are guided by 'SAGAR' (Security and Growth for All in the Region) as envisioned by the Prime Minister," he said.

India to expedite product safety approvals; Apple and Samsung could benefit

MUNSIF VENGATTIL New Delhi, September 2

INDIA WILL TRY out a strategy of parallel testing to speed up safety approvals for new electronic devices, an industry group told Reuters on Friday, a move that could boost device launch plans by the likes of Samsung and Apple.

The move comes as India scrambles to remove bottlenecks faced by businesses, with Prime Minister Narendra Modi bullish on an electronics hardware manufacturing industry his government targets to be worth $300 billion by 2026.

The plan to test different components of the devices simultaneously looks set to cut as much as five to eight weeks from the 16 to 21 now often needed to test and certify products ranging from wireless earbuds to smartphones.

"For industry, it is directly linked with ease of doing business; for consumers, this will result in faster access to the latest products," the group, MAIT, said in its statement.

Firms such as Apple, Samsung and Xiaomi are among its members, along with global and domestic firms operating in India's electronics, telecom and IT sector.

To trim the time required, the group added, the testing agency, the Bureau of Indian Standards, "has agreed to a pilot project where some identified electronics hardware products shall be undergoing parallel

Executives say India's cumbersome testing process can take 16 weeks for a new Apple Air Pods model, for example, as the charging case and its components must first secure clearance before the earbuds are assessed. For a smartphone and its parts, the procedure could take an average of up to 21 weeks.

The pilot decision followed a closed-door meeting on Wednesday between officials of India's information technology ministry, BIS, MAIT and executives of firms such as Apple and Samsung, a source with direct knowledge of the matter said.

Apple, Samsung and Xiaomi did not immediately respond to requests for comment. The BIS and the IT ministry also did not immediately respond to Reuters queries. Earbuds will be the first devices likely to be put through the faster testing, with the government deciding on other products later, MAIT said. — REUTERS

Vaccine against lumpy skin disease to hit mkts soon: ICAR

HARISH DAMODARAN New Delhi, September 2

THE INDIAN COUNCIL of Agricultural Research (ICAR) is confident about commercialising its indigenously-developed Lumpi-ProVacInd vaccine against the lumpy skin disease (LSD) virus infecting cattle within "four-five months".

"Agrinnovate India, which is the commercialisation arm for products and technologies developed by our institutes, issued the expression of interest document last week. About three companies have already shown interest," Bhupendra Nath Tripathi, Deputy Director-General (Animal Sciences) of ICAR, told The Indian Express.

Lumpi-ProVacInd – jointly developed by ICAR's National Research Centre on Equines (NRCE) at Hisar, Haryana and the Indian Veterinary Research Institute (IVRI) at Izatnagar, Pradesh — is a live attenuated vaccine, similar to those used against tuberculosis, measles, mumps and rubella.

"It is also homologous, providing 100 per cent protection against LSD in cattle. Currently, we are only administering goat pox and sheep pox virus vaccines. These are heterologous vaccines offering only cross-protection (up to 60-70 per cent) for cattle against LSD, by virtue of all the three viruses belonging to the same capripoxvirus genus," explained Tripathi. While in the case of Covid-19, inactivated vaccines such as Covaxin were used, these are less effective, with just 5-6 months efficacy against capripox viruses. Hence, the choice of a live attenuated vaccine for LSD.

According to official data, LSD has infected about 11.21 lakh cattle and caused 49,628 deaths across India as on August 31. The virus -mainly spread by biting flies, mosquitoes and ticks, with symptoms ranging from fever, loss of appetite, nasal discharge, watery eyes and hyper-salivation to severe skin eruptions and inflammatory nodules – has been reported in 12 states. These include Rajasthan (31 districts), Gujarat (26), Punjab (24), Haryana (22), Uttar Pradesh (21), Jammu & Kashmir (18), Himachal Pradesh (9), Madhya Pradesh (5), Uttarakhand (4), Maharashtra (3), Goa (1), and Andaman & Nicobar Islands (1).

Giving details on the vaccine's development, Naveen Kumar, veterinary virologist and principal scientist at NRCE, said that the institute had collected skin nodule samples from LSD-infected cows near Ranchi in December 2019. The virus was isolated at the Hisar-based institute by early-January 2020. This was a period when cases of the disease were coming in from Odisha and eastern states. "These weren't leading to any mortality. But being a virus totally new to India, we decided to work on it," he said. The next step was to propagate the isolated virus in African green monkey kidney (Vero) cells used in cultures. The culturing was done over 50 generations ("passages") and took about 17 months. As the virus mutated after repeated passages, its virulence or disease-causing ability weakened. The pathogenicity loss started from around the 30th passage, although the mutated virus could induce the necessary immune response from its host.

"We did sequencing of the virus genome at the start and the 10th, 30th and 50th passages. The attenuated live virus was identified as a vaccine candidate after the 50th passage and tested on our laboratory mice and rabbits," said Kumar.

Experimental trials of the vaccine candidate on the natural host (cattle) was undertaken at IVRI in April this year. These included 10 male calves that were administered the vaccine and five "control" ani mals that weren't. After a month, both sets of calves were injected with the virulent virus. The control calves showed most of the LSD symptoms, whereas the vaccinated animals had developed full immunity.

In Kagzi's words, "While people were struggling for vaccines here, abroad, students had easy access to vaccination camps set up on university campuses." Apart from the post-pandemic spurt in numbers, she also mentioned that a wider variety of courses was available, and in fact, students from the middle-income families were driving up the numbers, as opposed to the upper crust, as one would expect.

Yet another reason that the consultants presented was the growing number of international schools in the country, which follow curriculum aligned with international standards. Kagzi stated, "Students are keener to enroll in foreign universities coming out of these schools as they feel they do not have much to do with the institutes that still follow Indian standards, and thus, parents are also keen to send their children abroad for undergraduate courses." Both also pointed out a similar, but interesting insight — Indian students still majorly stick to the technical and finance courses like engineering and MBA, although they were also increasingly opting for upand-coming fields in these

Both Prof Dewar and Prof Amalia Di Iorio, pro-vice chancellor (educational partnerships), La Trobe University, agreed that besides the quality of education and value for money, Indian students were among the most active groups in the university campus, and "the Indian student association is one of the most active in the campus, and we see them organising a lot of events for their cultural holidays." Besides that, both agreed that Indian students also immersed themselves in campus life and to no one's surprise, were very active in student politics, as well as involved in sports, especially cricket.

The great Indian exodus is thus driven by not only a desire to obtain quality education away from the rat race that still prevails in India due to a major crunch at the supply side of educational institutions, but also a desire to break free from the mould of just a doctor or an engineer. The upcoming generation of students is not only willing to take risks, but is also ready to be flexible in their decisions, which foreign universities allow them to do. It appears that India has a lot of catching up to do if it wishes to retain its brightest minds.
